The Anti-Apartheid Movement

Founded in 1959, the Anti-Apartheid Movement (AAM) campaigns in solidarity with the oppressed people of South Africa against the repressive apartheid system, and for a democratic, united South Africa.

South Africa : Freedom Now!

We have seen dramatic developments in the last twelve months, with the release of Nelson Mandela, the unbanning of the ANC and other organisations and the independence of Namibia. Yet South Africa is still not free from racial tyranny. The South African authorities have not yet dismantled the pillars of apartheid which sustain the systematic repression of the majority black population.

Young people and students have always borne the brunt of oppressive apartheid legislation, and they have been - and remain - the most militant and heroic formation in the democratic struggle. It is essential that students in this country continue to support their struggle.

Now the AAM is campaigning for "South Africa : Freedom Now!" -

- to stop apartheid repression and allow free political activity;
- to boycott apartheid and call for international sanctions against South Africa ;
- for a united, non-racial and democratic South Africa:
- for solidarity with the ANC

What should students in Britain be doing?

Students and young people have always played a crucial role in solidarity and campaigning work. Now more than ever the AAM needs your support!

- Join the Anti-Apartheid Movement, the only national organisation campaigning against apartheid.
- Affiliate your student union to the AAM.
- Set up a student anti-apartheid group, and take a bulk order of Anti-Apartheid News.
- Invite a speaker to your Students' Union.
- Contact Claire McMaster for further info at AAM.
