SAVE THE SHARPEVILLE SIX! NO APARTHEID EXECUTIONS!

Reid Mokoena (23)

These six young opponents of apartheid are facing imminent execution. Sentenced to death on December 13th 1985, they appealed but this was rejected on December 1st 1987. Now their lawyers are petitioning the State President for clemency. They could be executed at any time now.

The Sharpeville accused are just six of at least 44 opponents of apartheid currently under sentence of death. In the last 12 months at least six others have been executed — some in secret with no prior notice given.

Saving the Sharpeville Six is now the top priority of the campaign to stop all apartheid executions. Write now to President P W Botha demanding that clemency be exercised.

Such pressures in the past have succeeded in averting executions when all legal processes have been exhausted. Since 1979, worldwide campaigns have gained reprieves for 7 people sentenced to death.

Please come to the mass picket organised by SATIS, on Wednesday December 16th from 5.30 to 6.30pm, of the South African Embassy, calling for clemency in the case of the Sharpeville Six and all those on death row. This picket is followed by a public meeting at 7.00pm at Friends House, Euston Road, London NW1 organised by the African National Congress to mark Heroes Day, and supported by SATIS and the AAM. It will focus on the issue of political executions in South Africa.

SATIS is urging all individuals and organisations to:

- Write to the South African authorities demanding that clemency be shown to the Sharpeville Six and all those under sentence of death:
President P W Botha, Union Buildings, Pretoria 0001, South Africa.
- Write to the British Government urging them to intervene as a matter of priority in the case of the Sharpeville Six and all those facing political execution in South Africa:
Sir Geoffrey Howe, Foreign Secretary, Foreign and Commonwealth Office,
King Charles Street, London SW1.
- Ensure that any organisation you are a member of takes up the issue of apartheid executions and supports the SATIS Campaign.

I/We would like to support the SATIS Campaign 'No Apartheid Executions'.
