

Should Sanctions be implemented against South Africa?

Why did the United Nations describe Apartheid as
"a crime against humanity" ?

Is South Africa behind attempts to destabilise the Front Line States ?

Is Mandela a terrorist or a Freedom fighter?

how can we judge ?*

Do you want to do something to help ?

Whether we like it or not Apartheid is our Problem

- * Britain is South Africa's third most important trading partner
- * 50% of foreign investment in South Africa is British.
- * Of the eleven states of Southern Africa eight are English speaking and used to be part of the British Empire.
- * The South African army is one of the best equipped in the world (including a nuclear capability) - due in part to British collaboration.
- * Many major British firms are household names in South Africa
- * Many white South Africans are our kith and kin.
 - * Apartheid's cheap labour system produces cheap imports which undermine British firms and British jobs.

- * An end to trade with South Africa could mean job losses in Britain.
 - * South Africa is a potential flashpoint between the super powers which could engulf us all.
 - * Our Government and the Commonwealth is committed to help the Front line States develop and break free of the Apartheid economy.

The Southern Africa Resource Centre was established in 1989 to advance the education of the public in the south West of England as to the theory and practise of Apartheid in the fields of Southern African art, culture, history and current affairs. It aims to achieve this by :-

* Opening a Resource Centre in Bristol to cover the South West. The centre will be open to the public and will contain literature, videos, exhibitions, poetry, art, music etc about and from South Africa and the Front Line States. Much of this material will be for hire or loan throughout the South West.

*Running an Education Project which will involve a full time teacher who will prepare educational materials about Apartheid suitable for use in schools. Where appropriate they will go into schools and colleges to assist teaching staff in running courses on Southern Africa. This service will also be available to other specialist groups eg youth clubs, womens groups, churches, trade unions etc. This project will also encourage educational links with the Front Line States such as school to school and college to college. Such contacts will be valuable in raising awareness about Southern Africa.

Through a Development Project; towns, cities, local and regional organisations in the South West will be encouraged to establish links with their counterparts in the Front Line States. The aims of which will be to provide material and financial help to their Southern African counterparts as well as to increase their understanding of the problems of the region.

Promote a Cultural Programme on the art, music, literature and history of Southern Africa.

Clearly such an ambitious programme needs funds. We believe however it is money well spent. Apartheid and the problems of Southern Africa pose both a moral and political challenge. We must make informed judgements or we are failing in our responsibilities. Please support us financially either with a donation or by filling out the Bankers Order overpage.
