

"Apartheid
is not simply the segregation of facilities
and suburbs.

It is the denial of political power to people on the basis
of their race.

This will be ended
only when black
South Africans
have the vote. "

Bishop Desmond Tutu

Apartheid
is not dead.

Keep up
the boycott!

Apartheid is not dead. Help bury it now! Keep up the boycott!

Change is coming in South Africa but apartheid is still alive.
Nelson Mandela is free but he cannot vote.

The African National Congress is unbanned
but a barrage of repressive laws are still in force.

Opponents of apartheid are still held in jail.
Political prisoners are still on death row. Political trials continue.

We cannot relax until apartheid is dead and buried.

Black South Africans want democracy. They want one person one vote.
Yet negotiations have not even started, let alone agreement being reached on a genuinely democratic constitution.

Sanctions and boycotts, together with the struggles and sacrifices of the people of South Africa, have compelled President de Klerk to begin to talk about a negotiated settlement.

If you support one person one vote in South Africa help keep up the pressure.
This is the message of Nelson Mandela:

"Take whatever action you can to isolate apartheid and impose people's sanctions. Don't buy the produce of apartheid!"

The people of South Africa yearn for a new future.
They want an end to the violence and repression. They want a united,
non-racial, non-sexist and democratic South Africa.

Help them make this vision a reality.
